

spurious noise studio

pre-shoot checklist

in order to make the best use of time during your portrait session, we recommend preparing in the following ways:

things to do:

- ▶ get a good night's rest in order for you to look and feel your best
- ▶ discuss with your photographer specific objectives you may want to achieve during your consultation (BEFORE the shoot) so he or she may be able to adequately prepare and give you any additional directions
- ▶ be organized with your clothing, props, and accessories
- ▶ come to the studio with your hair and makeup already done up so only minor touch ups will be necessary
- ▶ refrain from wearing any loud patterned clothing or any distracting accessories. we want the photo to be about you, not what you're wearing things to bring:

- ▶ signed model release form, if agreed upon
- ▶ makeup & hair products for touchups
- ▶ props or accessories you want to be photographed with
- ▶ alternative outfits
- ▶ for headshots, we recommend bringing both white and black shirts to change in to
- ▶ please bring with you anything that may help you relax in front of the camera; your favorite CD or the moral support of a friend. however, keep in mind that most people feel uncomfortable being photographed in front of people.

spurious noise studio